2016 was another highly successful year for the Long Island Housing Partnership (LIHP) with over 1,850 clients assisted through various initiatives and programs. In 2016, LIHP established a new Community Land Trust (CLT) corporation, the Long Island Partnership CLT Housing Development Fund Company, Inc. This newly formed CLT will be used to develop housing in both Nassau and Suffolk Counties for low- and moderate-income households. The CLT will retain ownership of the land while selling the home (structure) to the purchaser. LIHP has already secured 21 sites that will be developed and transferred into the CLT, with an additional 16 sites in the pipeline for acquisition.

At LIHP’s 28th Annual Meeting, Jamie Rubin, the Commissioner of New York State’s Homes and Community Renewal, provided the keynote address to provide his insights on the rebuilding of storm damaged properties and on the importance of workforce housing on Long Island.

LIHP continued to secure low cost capital for its lending arm the Long Island Housing Partnership Community Development Financial Institution (LIHPCDFI) and originated its first loan for pre-development and construction financing in 2016. New ventures are being finalized and funding is being committed to various programs which are to be implemented in 2017.

The Employer Assisted Housing Program continues to be a very successful Economic Development program for Long Island companies and their employees.

In 2016, over 50 households were able to purchase and rehabilitate their homes through this program.

LIHP continues to build and assist in the creation of new affordable homeownership and rental housing programs across both Nassau and Suffolk Counties, with the continued focus on downtowns and transit-oriented development. In 2016, LIHP assisted 386 households through its Technical Assistance programs.

LIHP’s Education programs, including Pre-Purchase and Foreclosure Prevention counseling continued to assist clients purchase housing and help homeowners stay in their homes across Long Island. In 2016, LiHP served approximately 1,200 clients through these education programs.

The Fair Housing education initiative continued with developing a six hour Fair Housing Land Use and Zoning training and held an additional two joint seminars in 2016 to bring Long Island together to discuss many topics, including the barriers facing people from obtaining decent and safe affordable housing on Long Island.

The Long Island Housing Partnership is very grateful for the support and participation of our Board of Directors, members, funding sources and Government partners. Without you, our programs and successes would not be possible.

Thank you for your continual support and generosity.
The Long Island Housing Partnership 28th Annual Meeting was held in June of 2016 and was attended by hundreds of Long Island’s leaders in housing, business, professional, government and non-profit fields. The keynote address was delivered by James S. Rubin, Commissioner and CEO of New York State Homes and Community Renewal, presenting an update of what new programs are coming down from NYS and an update of various current programs. Mr. Rubin provided commentary on the important work that LIHP does as a partner with New York State in developing affordable workforce housing as well as disaster relief in the rebuild of Superstorm Sandy damaged properties.

Suffolk County Land Bank

Suffolk County Land Bank (SCLB) received funds from the New York State Attorney General’s Office to rehabilitate homes that have been foreclosed. SCLB contracted with the Long Island Housing Partnership to rehabilitate these homes. LIHP held a lottery in February 2016 to rank the applicants. Located in Sound Beach, Mastic and Bay Shore, homes will be closing in early 2017.

Suffolk County Land Bank was created to keep the dream of homeownership for many Long Islanders from fading. Suffolk County was one of the hardest hit areas during the housing crisis, leading to a record foreclosure rate.

The Suffolk County Land Bank “zombie home” program, working with the Long Island Housing Partnership, acquires vacant homes which are a blight on their communities to be rejuvenated into attractive homes for families who need assistance in attaining home ownership.
Employer Assisted Housing Program

LIHP has administered the Employer Assisted Housing Program for 17 years, assisting over 490 employees to purchase and rehab a home of their choice anywhere on Long Island. In 2016, LIHP assisted 52 employees achieve their dream of homeownership. This program has no deadlines and operates 12 months of the year. Employers contribute from $3,000 to $10,000 depending on the number of employees they have and the funding available from the individual employer. It requires two mandatory counseling sessions after an application is reviewed and accepted, so the employee is well educated and can look for a home feeling confident that he/she is qualified.

New York State Affordable Housing Corporation, New York State Senate Delegation, Nassau and Suffolk Counties, as well as the Towns of Islip and Babylon, are participants in this program.

Down Payment Assistance

For many low-and-moderate income people on Long Island who are struggling to pay the rent and raise their families, putting together enough money for a down payment to purchase a home is quite a challenge. To help meet this challenge, Nassau County and the Town of Babylon provide down payment assistance.

The Nassau County Down Payment Assistance Program provides up to $25,000 to eligible families earning at or below 80% of the area median income toward the purchase of a single family home. In 2016, 15 families were assisted with $375,000 provided in HUD HOME funds.

The Town of Babylon provides eligible first-time homebuyers purchasing anywhere in the town up to $14,000 in funding for down payment and closing costs. In 2016, Babylon Town made available $252,000 in HUD HOME funds for down payment and closing costs. So far two families have been assisted and the program has been extended into the 2017 year until funding has been exhausted.
The Long Island Partnership CLT Housing Development Fund Co. Inc. (LIPCLTHDFC) was established in October of 2016. The mission of the LIPCLTHDFC is to support strong, vital communities across Long Island in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. This mission is accomplished through the development and stewardship of permanently affordable homes.

A Community Land Trust is a not for profit corporation that acquires multiple parcels of land throughout a geographic area with the intention of retaining ownership of these parcels forever. The new homeowner owns the home on the parcels and the land remains in the Community Land Trust, thereby making the home more affordable.

In 2016, Nassau/Suffolk Partnership Housing Development Fund Company, Inc. acquired 14 homes in Phase I of Rebuild Long Island. These homes, which were damaged during SuperStorm Sandy, will be demolished and 14 new homes will be built and placed in the newly established Community Land Trust. These homes will be available to individuals and families earning at or below 80% of the area median income.

LIHP is working with New York Rising to acquire an additional 16 homes for the Rebuild Long Island Program, which will bring the total to 30 homes in the program.
Long Island Housing Partnership Home Improvement Program

Long Island Housing Partnership was awarded $727,500 by the New York State Affordable Housing Corporation to assist homeowners in Nassau and Suffolk Counties in rehabilitating their homes. First priority is given to repairs which eliminate health and safety hazards and which bring the home up to building code standards. Once the home is brought up to standard, a second priority may be included which could be directed toward repairing, preserving, or protecting the property. LIHP was able to assist 23 homeowners over the past two years with the funding from this program. In 2016, the New York State Affordable Housing Corporation awarded an additional $800,000 to open the second round of the program in 2017.

Neighborhood Stabilization Program

Through the Neighborhood Stabilization Program which began in 2009, the Long Island Housing Partnership has provided 57 first-time homebuyers with fully renovated homes. These homes were previously foreclosed and a blight on the communities in which they were located. The homeowners in this program receive eight hours of mortgage counseling to ensure that they are well prepared for homeownership. Classroom training can include such speakers as building inspectors, attorneys, and housing institution representatives. The homeowners in this program are provided with subsidies in order to ensure affordability.

Community Stabilization Program

The Community Stabilization Program was established to aid homeowners with down payment assistance to purchase a foreclosed or blighted home anywhere on Long Island. In 2016, the Long Island Housing Partnership, working in conjunction with the State of New York Mortgage Agency (SONYMA) was able to help a first time homebuyer not only obtain $30,000 in down payment assistance, but to gain an additional $20,000 to rehabilitate a foreclosed home located in Baldwin.

Town of Babylon Home Improvement Program

In 2016, the Town of Babylon provided $30,000 in rehabilitation assistance to two eligible households. The purpose of the Town of Babylon Home Improvement Program is to correct substandard housing code violations, basic housing conditions that are considered dangerous to health and safety and to also bring the homes up to current energy efficient standards. The Town of Babylon has made available $220,000 for the upcoming year and has increased the rehabilitation amount for each homeowner to up to $50,000.
Pre Purchase Counseling
LIHP can proudly say that homeowners who have attended its counseling sessions have a much higher chance of attaining their goal of homeownership and retaining their home. These sessions cover a broad array of topics and explain to prospective homeowners their function throughout the process. Grant opportunities are explored to determine eligibility in conjunction with down payment assistance programs offered through LIHP.

LIHP’s education and counseling draws a steady flow of clients throughout the year. LIHP’s partnership with “Framework”, the comprehensive online counseling program has had over 40 clients initiate their education in the last year. This method of homebuyer counseling greatly appeals to the “millennial” population. Prospective buyers are able to receive their “starter” education when their busy schedules permit. Once the prospective buyer completes the online course, he or she is prompted to make an appointment with an LIHP pre-purchase counselor to continue the education process. The online course tends to enhance the quality and effectiveness of LIHP’s signature one-on-one counseling session. The “Framework” course is offered in English and Spanish.

First Home Club
LIHP offers a more generalized group education workshop for first-time homebuyers. Spring and fall sessions are traditionally offered. Participants are required to register for this free program, which is funded by the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York and its member lenders. Sessions are well attended, and in 2016, LIHP added an additional daytime class to accommodate registrants.

Participants who have saved at least $1,875 of their own funds over a period of 10 to 18 months are eligible to earn matching funds for down payment assistance up to $7,500, or four times what they have saved. Matching funds are based on household size and income level (a percentage of the area medium income as established by HUD).

Default Counseling
Although the Long Island economy has rebounded somewhat there are still many homeowners finding themselves in need of LIHP’s experienced default/foreclosure counseling team. LIHP assisted over 400 families in 2016 and continues to work with struggling homeowners to find the best solutions to meet their circumstances. The court system is still dealing with a backlog of cases in both Nassau and Suffolk Counties, which are among the hardest hit areas in New York State. LIHP counselors are well trained and communicate daily with lenders/servicers and the legal service agencies dedicated to assist the homeowners navigate the most difficult periods in their lives.

LIHP counselors work along with other non-profit organizations, community groups and local officials to conduct outreach seminars to promote the available default services. Many clients are at a loss of where to begin the process when they find themselves out of work due to unemployment, loss of income or medical issues and they are relieved when they know there are options available for home retention.

Mortgage Assistance Program
LIHP participated in the very successful first round of the MAP program which was funded through NYS Attorney General Eric Schneiderman and administered by the Center for New York City Neighborhoods, with support from the Empire Justice Center. The MAP program is an interest free loan up to $40,000 with no monthly payments required. A lien is placed on the subject property for the amount of the loan and it remains in place until property is sold, refinanced or the homeowner no longer resides in the property.

This is a highly effective program, whose loan funds are used to assist homeowners in retaining their homes by bringing their mortgage current, paying tax arrears, applying funds toward a down payment on a modification, secondary liens or other debt that was leading toward foreclosure actions.
Education and Counseling

"Thank you for all your efforts on my behalf. I dropped off my bank statements at your office and met with the free legal service attorney. I also filed my papers at the Suffolk County Clerk's Office. Meeting you was a life changing day for me.
I really thought that my life was over, that there was no light at the end of the tunnel and that I was a failure. Your professional expertise and reassurance gave me hope. Carol, I can never thank you enough, know that you are making a difference in people's lives. Last night I had the first decent sleep in almost a year. Thank you again."

Denisa from Wading River, New York

"When I sat at her desk that afternoon, I was relieved to see that there was help for us. By no means had Carrie promised us anything, but offered assistance and assurance that she would be following our case. After many months and visits, we were approved for the loan modification which helped us out tremendously. I am truly thankful for Carrie and her hard work. Thank you so much for everything that you have done for us."

Eileen from Cantareauch, New York
Lending

The LIHP Community Development Financial Institution (LIHPCDFI) was incorporated under NYS law in 2013 and approved by the United States Treasury as a Certified CDFI in June 2014. The goal of LIHPCDFI is to provide low-cost financing options for the development of affordable housing in our target markets.

LIHPCDFI continued focus is on providing affordable financing for several affordable housing developments. LIHPCDFI has secured $2,000,000 of lending capital through two revolving lines of credit from Bank United and Suffolk County National Bank (now People’s United Bank).

Fair Housing

The Long Island Housing Partnership provides basic and advanced fair housing education to varied audiences as a way to prevent or reduce discriminatory housing practices and to promote actions that support housing choice. To advance these goals, LIHP sponsored two fair housing conferences in 2016.

The first conference in June, Professional Development Training in Fair and Affordable Housing, Land Use and Zoning, was co-sponsored with St. Joseph’s College Institute for Attainable Homes. The more than 95 attendees from government, business and advocacy groups received in-depth fair housing, land use, and zoning training.

In October, LIHP joined with Molloy College and Fordham University to present Fair Housing Rights for People with Psychiatric Disabilities featuring keynote speaker Michael Allen, Esq., a well-known civil and disability rights attorney and partner at Relman, Dane and Colfax PLLC. This day-long conference attracted nearly two hundred people.

In addition to large conferences, LIHP provided a two-part, six-hour fair housing training focused on land use and zoning for local municipals, with Kevin Dwarka, a land use attorney and planner.

During the fall, LIHP prepared a comprehensive fair lending and financial education program for M & T Bank to prepare minority families for home ownership. More than one hundred individuals attended the event held at the Economic Opportunity Commission of Nassau County, Inc. in the Roosevelt, NY center.

LIHP continues to provide fair housing technical assistance to municipalities, developers, and other professionals. Particular attention has been focused on developing relationships with consumer groups to assist the most vulnerable who may not recognize the signs of housing discrimination or know where to find help. To address these challenges, LIHP has added extensive fair housing information and links to its website, and incorporated fair housing into the housing counseling curriculum and educational community meetings.

LIHP’s fair housing work has been made possible by generous grants from JP Morgan Chase, Long Island Community Foundation, a division of The New York Community Trust and M&T Bank. This support has enabled LIHP to provide fair housing education to multiple audiences through a variety of events.
